About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

Jim Tolliver Leases Airport at Junction City, Kansas

THIS AND THAT: Jim Tolliver is leaving town. Jim's been one of the boys who operated the Harrisburg-Raleigh airport and has done a lot of flying in these parts. He's going to Junction City, Kansas, where he has leased the Municipal airport.

He'll take over there Feb. 1 in an area where he's been doing crop spraying for five years. Figured that since so much of his business is in Kansas he might as well locate there.

Jim was Timmo's personal pilot at the new local airport. Both times.

Once we went up in a Piper Cub just to look things over. The other time he took me in Rees Turner's four-seater over to Herrin where Timmo caught a C-47 for Camp Ripley, Minn. He's a good pilot.

Out here he had a lease with Travis Gannon, but several months ago he sold out his part to Tom Cleverger and Eloise Koch.

If you're gonna knock, it pays to know where you're gonna knock.

One night last week the caretakers at the Humane shelter heard a knock on their front door. They opened the door and it was a strange dog pawing at the door. A blond Cocker Spaniel.

It apparently was looking for lodging and it went to the right place. It was taken in and spent the rest of the night in the caretakers' house.

There are plenty of places around with water shortages and one of them is the Broughton grade school. It closed up one day last week because of it.

It's been necessary to haul water to operate the school's heating plant, which is the steam heat type, and the water supply was exhausted one night last week, forcing the cessation of classes until more was hauled.

Flushed with anger a man burst into an electrical shop.

"Didn't I ask you guys yesterday to send a man to my home to fix the front door bell that's out of order?" he asked. "And didn't you solemnly promise to send somebody out there right away?"

"But Mr. Bush," protested the manager, we did send one. I'm certain of it."

Then he called to a workman in the back of the shop:

"Hey, Mickey, didn't you go out to the Bush house yesterday to attend to that job?"

"Yes sir," replied Mickey. "I went out there all right, and I rang the doorbell for ten minutes, but nobody answered. Guess there was nobody home."

PARTING SHOT: You can't clean up the world with soft soap. It takes grit.

28 Illinois Mine Deaths in 1953 For All-Time Low

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Accidents in Illinois coal mines in 1953 caused the deaths of 28 miners, an all-time low, B. H. Schull, director of the Department of Mines and Minerals, said today.

With coal production totaling 44,177,565 tons for the year, according to provisional figures, Schull said the number of tons mined per fatality was 1,577,768, a record high average. The total production figure will change, however, as delinquent reports come in.

The previous low in mine deaths was set in 1952 with 31 fatal accidents, Schull said. Coal production for 1952 was 45,752,588 tons, or 1,475,890 tons mined per fatality.

Schull said a breakdown of the 1953 fatalities shows that 16 deaths were caused by roof falls, six by haulage, three by railway cars, and one each by machinery, electricity, and falling objects.

Last year there were 1,313 non-fatal accidents causing lost time of at least one day. In 1952, a total of 1,565 non-fatal accidents occurred.

There were two mine deaths and 112 non-fatal accidents in December, Schull said. With coal production totaling 4,877,863 tons for the month, tons produced per fatality were 2,438,932, and tons hoisted per non-fatal accident were 43,552.

3 Republicans, Douglas File In Senate Race

Stratton Asks GOP Candidates to Campaign as Unit

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Three Illinois Republicans were formally in the fight for the nomination for U. S. senator today with at least three more GOP candidates expected to join them.

Joseph T. Meek, Western Springs, Deneen A. Watson, Chicago, and Edward A. Hayes, Chicago, all filed nominating petitions Monday, the opening day for filing.

Among the other Republicans who had announced they would seek the same nomination were Park Livingston, La Grange; Brig. Gen. Julius Klein, Chicago, and Austin L. Wyman, Chicago.

The incumbent is Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Chicago Democrat, who filed his petitions for renomination Monday. Douglas is not expected to have strong opposition in the primary election. But the GOP is planning a vigorous campaign to beat him in November.

Nickell, Peterman File

There was the usual flood of petitions as the filing period opened. Petitions for the primary election will be accepted through next Monday.

Early-filing candidates for state offices included Vernon L. Nickell, Chicago, Republican incumbent, and Mark A. Peterman, Springfield, Democrat, for state superintendent of public instruction.

David F. Mallet, East St. Louis, Democrat, and Conrad F. Becker, Red Bud, Republican, filed on the opening day for state treasurer. Becker was state treasurer from 1944 to 1946.

Meanwhile, Gov. William G. Stratton was reported to have asked the Republican candidates for the U. S. Senate and for state offices to campaign as a single group.

45 File for State Senate

A spokesman said Stratton believed the "primary caravan" would dramatize the governor's expressed policy of an open primary and would draw more interest and publicity.

Stratton also thought the joint campaigning would prevent intra-party feuds after the primary, the informant said.

Twenty-four of the 25 Illinois representatives in Congress filed Monday for re-election. Only incumbent Peter F. Mack Jr., Carlinville, Democrat of the 21st District, did not file on opening day.

The Republicans now have 16 congressional seats, the Democrats 9.

Forty-five candidates filed Monday for nominations to the State

3 More File for County Office

There were three more filings for Republican county offices in the county clerk's office today.

Latest Republicans to file were Layman Jones of Eldorado and John H. L. Parish of Harrisburg for sheriff and Verner E. Joyner of Harrisburg for county clerk.

A Springfield, Gordon E. Kerr of Brookport and W. O. Verhines of Vienna, both Republicans, and Paul Powell, Vienna Democrat, have filed for state representative from the 51st senatorial district; and Charles A. Jean, Anna Republican, and L. Oard Sitter, Anna Democrat, have filed for state central committee member from the 25th congressional district. All are incumbents. Also to file was Kenneth J. Gray, West Frankfort, Democrat, for congress in the 25th district.

In addition, at 10 a. m. today there were nine more filings for precinct committeeman posts in Saline county. They are:

Republican: Harrisburg 1, Dave E. Evans; Harrisburg 9, Bob F. Lane; Eldorado 1, Dowe Robinson; Eldorado 2, Layman Jones; Eldorado 6, Arnold J. Davis; Carrier Mills 3, Hayward A. Lyles; Rector, J. R. Cochran.

Democrat: Eldorado 6, Amos Younger; Independence, Steve Mitchell.

Open Bids On Methodist Church, Youth Center

The Building committee of the First Methodist church met last night to open bids received for the construction of the new church and youth center building.

The committee delayed taking any definite action and no bid was accepted or rejected. Some discussion was held on possible minor alterations, but no decision was reached. The board will meet again in the near future.

'Congo' Pumping Water Part Time

The six-inch "Congo" pump is pumping water part of the time these days, it was announced today.

Since the pump first went into operation shortly before noon Sunday, it has pumped out what water is available, then has "kicked off" until more water has collected for pumping.

Doubt Lake Election Petitions Valid, But Vote May Be Called

City Council Defers Action Until Thursday

The city council this morning heard Scerial Thompson, city attorney, express the opinion that petitions submitted asking for a referendum on the Lake Harrisburg proposition were insufficient and improperly presented, then adjourned until Thursday morning to further discuss the matter.

The petitions, bearing 652 names, were left at City Clerk Olive Patterson's door the night of Saturday, Jan. 16, last date for filing.

There were strong indications this morning, however, that the city might not fight the petitions and go ahead and call an election. This was the gist of a first motion brought up — to meet Thursday morning and vote on an ordinance calling for an election on the $200,000 bond issue ordinance which provides for building a lake and making other improvements.

But following considerable discussion among Mayor Ralph Horning, two carriers of the petitions asking for the referendum, and members of the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, the council voted only to adjourn until Thursday, to discuss the matter further.

Regarding the propriety of the petitions, City Attorney Scerial Thompson declared:

"I've gone over the petitions and noticed that although the persons who carried them signed an affidavit that each individual was contacted for signing, I've found several names written in the same handwriting. And I am suggesting that the petitions were not properly filed when they were left at night on the porch of the home of the city clerk."

"My opinion is that there is not a sufficient number of valid signatures and in no way are the petitions regular enough to compel the council to call an election."

"However," Thompson continued, "despite the fact that they haven't been submitted properly and there are not enough valid signatures, I suggest that the council adjourn until Thursday and then pass an ordinance calling for an election. I don't believe the city is legally compelled to call an election but am suggesting that it be done. I want to add, too, that the tactics of this minority may destroy our lake."

Mayor Horning, who declared that he had an opinion that 20 per cent of those who voted in the last city election, instead of 10 per cent, were needed on petitions which ban films.

Industry spokesmen were unanimous in their approval of the high court decision which held that state censorship boards may not ban a movie on grounds it is "immoral" or tends to promote crime.

The court struck down New York's ban on "La Ronde" (The Round), a French language picture adjudged "immoral"; and a ban by Ohio of "M." which state censors decided was likely to promote crime.

Movie Producer Samuel B. Goldwyn, who recently stirred up a film colony controversy by proposing that the Green Censorship Office of the Motion Picture Producers Association modernize its code, called the Supreme Court action a "step forward in the freedom of the screen."

He said the decision points up the need to revise the Breen Code in order to get "sound and decent film regulation in keeping with the times."

Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, said he hopes the court will soon go further "and eliminate all political censorship . . . so that the screen will have the same freedom of expression as the press under the constitution."

Justice William O. Douglas, however, said movies should no more be subject to clearance before showing than are newspapers, novels, plays or any other means of communicating ideas.

Advisory Group Offers 28-Point Postal Program

Summerfield Hits Recommendations To Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Olin D. Johnston predicted today the Senate would steer clear of a proposed overhaul of the postal system suggested by an advisory council of the Senate Post Office Committee.

The South Carolina Democrat, ranking minority member of the Post Office Committee, took no stand on the council's 28-point streamlining program. He said the committee would probably pass the 364-page report along to the Senate without recommendations.

"I don't think any member of the Senate could take a position on the report," he told a reporter. "There are too many recommendations in it every senator is against."

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield lost no time in taking a stand. He termed the study "ridiculous" and accused the group's members of "fallacious reasoning."

The Post Office Department, he said, would make its own recommendations to the Senate before the end of the month.

The council called for "immediate" congressional action to boost mail rates but said the increases should be held to a "minimum" until its recommendations for greater efficiency are put into effect. The administration has asked Congress to raise first class rates to 4 cents and air mail to 7 cents.

The group said its recommendations would save taxpayers "hundreds of millions of dollars" a year and attacked "almost unbelievably deplorable" working conditions in the department, low employee morale, costly overlapping of operations, and "complete lack" of supervisor training.

The council ignored the recommendation of a three-man subcommittee headed by President William C. Doherty of the AFL mail carriers union, urging a return to two-day mail deliveries.

Summerfield described Council Chairman W. Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing Co. as "a long-time executive of the magazine publishers association and its leading champion for subsidized postal rates for magazines."

Summerfield said "the entire fabric and tenor" of the report "tries to justify further delay and inaction on postal increases for an indefinite period." He maintained a "formula" proposed by the council "would double the cost of first class mail and continue heavy subsidies to magazines."

Besides higher rates, the council called for employee pay boosts, wider use of labor-saving machines and more reliance on trucks in the hauling of mail. It said Congress should set all mail rates and that the department should be "directly responsible in all its phases" to Congress.

L. A. Rubel is New Rechter Manager

Grover Fulbright, manager of Rechter Bros. department store here, has been transferred to the Carmi Rechter store effective today.

New manager here is L. A. Rubel, who came to Harrisburg from the Anna store of Rechter Bros.

Free Speech Guarantee

Clark then held that movies are entitled to the "free speech" guarantee in the Constitution. He added, however, that because of this safeguard "it doesn't follow that the Constitution requires absolute freedom to exhibit every motion picture of every kind at all times and all places."

Because the term "sacrilegious" was the only standard involved in "The Miracle," he said, "it is not necessary for us to decide whether a state may censor motion pictures under a clearly-drawn statute designed and applied to prevent the showing of obscene films."

This reasoning the court re-affirmed Monday.

Justice William O. Douglas, however, said movies should no more be subject to clearance before showing than are newspapers, novels, plays or any other means of communicating ideas.

Health Proposals Touch Off Congressional Debate On How Far Gov't Should Go

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower's health proposals touched off brisk discussion in Congress today over how far the government should go to help Americans get and pay for better medical care.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (R-N.Y.) said the President's plan for underwriting private health insurance programs is "wholly inadequate" because it helps only when illness has struck a crushing blow.

"For many families," he said, "the need is not so much for protection against the cost of catastrophic illness as for ordinary and routine medical care at a cost which they reasonably can afford."

But Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) disagreed.

"The biggest need for government assistance is for the extraordinary expenses," he said. "When the government finances ordinary costs and care it gets into deep water on costs and socialization."

AMA President Critical

In submitting his health program to Congress Monday, Mr. Eisenhower proposed a 25 million-dollar government reinsurance service to promote more and better health protection for Americans by guaranteeing benefits under private medical insurance plans.

The administration is putting the finishing touches on a bill spelling out details of the proposal. Several House Republicans said, however, that it is clearly designed to help out with "catastrophic" rather than routine medical expenses.

The powerful American Medical Association still has not decided the official position it will take on the proposal, but Dr. Edward J. McCormick, AMA president, was critical Monday night.

He said in Los Angeles that private companies can handle the problem "if they are left alone," that there is no need for government action, and that the 25 million-dollar fund proposed by the President might grow to billions and run private insurance firms out of business.

CIO Urges Comprehensive Legislation

In New York, however, the president of Associated Hospital Service, New York's Blue Cross plan, said the program "appears entire."

These sources also disclosed that the budget will recommend slightly more funds for the Air Force, key to the administration's "new look" military strategy.

This means that the biggest spending whack will fall on the Army which is being gradually reduced in an effort to emphasize air and atomic power. The Navy, to a lesser extent, also will be cut in for less money.

The budget message, according to these informed sources, estimates defense spending for the current fiscal year at $41,500,000,000, making for a recommended spending cut of about four billion dollars. Actual spending last year, fiscal 1953, totaled $43,600,000,000.

To Slash Army Manpower

The administration maintains that it can cut costs and at the same time build a stronger defense force by placing greater emphasis on air and atomic striking power and less on expensive ground forces.

In line with this, it is known that the Defense Department expects to slash Army manpower by 18 per cent during fiscal 1955. And it expects to cut back Army, Navy and Marine manpower by about 500,000 men between now and mid-1957.

The sharp cut in military spending next year will give the administration's campaign to balance the budget a big boost. But because of declining revenue and other factors, the government still expects to be in the red for a while.

Webb Addresses Rotary on Program At Dixon Springs

Bob Webb, popular superintendent of the University of Illinois' Dixon Springs Experimental station, was the speaker at last night's Rotary club dinner meeting.

Webb, who was introduced by Adolph Smith, spoke briefly on the station's overall program and plan and then presented colored slides, showing various projects undertaken by the station.

Livestock, Webb pointed out, was considered as one of this area's most important "crops." He also touched on trench silos for storage of silage, erosion and treatment, pastures, ponds and irrigation.

During the business meeting, Dr. B. E. Montgomery reported on the progress of the Polio benefit telethon to be staged this Saturday evening. The organization, which first voiced the idea of such a program in this area for the benefit of the Polio drive, will donate a pony, saddle and bridle to be auctioned off during the event.

64-Hour Hunt Carried On in News Blackout

Victim Rescued Unharmed; $300,000 Ransom Demanded

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — A wealthy 36-year-old San Francisco realtor, kidnapped and held for $300,000 ransom for 64 terror-filled hours, was rescued unharmed by police early today after a grim manhunt carried on under a voluntary press blackout.

The victim, Leonard Moskowitz, who operates a flourishing real estate business with his identical twin brother, Alfred, was found in a rented downtown residence where he had been kept drugged, shackled and blindfolded.

His abductors, Harold Jackson, 57, and Joseph Lear, 43, of the Sacramento area, had threatened him with threats of emasculation to send portions of his body home if his family did not pay.

The kidnappers, described as "two tough professionals," surrendered without a fight when their elaborate plot fell to pieces, and were taken to jail in heavy shackles.

The district attorney said the men would be charged this afternoon with kidnapping — which carries a possible death penalty under California's little Lindbergh law in cases of bodily harm. Lynch added significantly "bodily harm involves any touching of another person against his will."

Red-eyed and haggard from his ordeal, Leonard described in detail for newsmen how he was tricked into accompanying Lear and Jackson last Saturday on the pretense of a real estate deal. The men said they wanted $500,000.

Only Two Men Involved

"They wanted me to start writing letters demanding ransom and the first one they dictated sounded so gruesome that I pleaded with them not to use those words. I said the shock of discovering I was missing would be so great that they could do without referring to certain of my organs being cut off."

Leonard said the men insisted he refer to them as a gang of five in the letters, but said there never were more than two men involved.

They kept mentioning a mysterious and bloodthirsty "boss," but no such person materialized, he said.

Phone Call Leads to Arrest

During the tension-filled three days, Moskowitz' twin brother and his father negotiated with the kidnappers in a series of guarded telephone calls and ads in the "agony column" of a local newspaper.

It was the telephone calls made by the kidnappers that eventually

Large Crowd At Singing Program

Approximately 800 persons attended the gospel and spiritual singing held last night in the Bonnell gym beginning at 8 o'clock and closing at midnight. The Egyptian quartet of Harrisburg was in charge.

The program opened with a congregational song and prayer by Rev. Earl Vaughn. The participants on the program included the Egyptians who sang four numbers, little Stanley Sue Lambert, who sang two solos, Lucky Leroy, who sang and played on his guitar three numbers, the Hamilton Brothers from Mayfield, Ky., sang three songs and the Blackwood Brothers quartet sang six numbers. The program proved to be a big success.

Rites Held Monday For Rev. A. L. Cain

The funeral of Rev. A. L. Cain, husband of Mrs. Ollie Cain who died Saturday at 11 a. m. at his home on 208 West Locust, was held Monday at 4 p. m. at the Murphy funeral home in Canton. Rev. Claude Temple, superintendent of Canton district, officiated, and burial was in the White Memorial Garden cemetery.

A short prayer service was held Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the Gaskins funeral home.

Mr. Cain is survived by his wife, Ollie, and one son, Cecil Cain of New Hampshire.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Air Force Will Scan Mars When Planet Nears Earth This Spring; Admits 20 Per Cent Of Flying-Saucer Reports Unexplained; Ike Deplores Unfair Employment But Objects To Federal Regulation.

WASHINGTON. — It isn't being advertised, but the Air Force will send high-flying observation planes and guided missiles into the upper atmosphere for a closer look at the planet Mars in June when Mars will approach nearer to the earth than at any time in the last 13 years.

Flying-saucer enthusiasts claim that the elusive saucers have always been spotted in greater numbers when Mars is close to the earth. The Air Force is skeptical about this, since no evidence has been uncovered linking flying saucers with other planets.

However, astronomers have noticed straight lines across the face of Mars, leading down from the Polar caps. These could be canals, dug by intelligent beings to carry irrigation water from the melting glaciers to warmer regions, they admit.

In any case, the Air Force will cooperate with scientists by sending up observation planes and guided missiles for a closer look, while Mars is near the earth this spring. The missiles will be equipped with special instruments trained on Mars, and will be shot into the stratosphere. In addition, a scientific expedition will journey to Bloemfontein, South Africa, which will be the closest point on earth from which to observe our neighbor planet.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has compiled a special report, as yet unpublished, summing up its findings on flying saucers. This acknowledges that 20 per cent of the flying-saucer reports "cannot be definitely associated with familiar things."

INSUFFICIENT DATA
"The difficulty in evaluating these unexplained reports," according to the Air Force document, "is based largely upon the insufficiency of accurate basic data such as size, shape, composition, and flight characteristics of the objects."

"The majority of reports of aerial phenomena have come from civilians," continued the document.
"About 8 per cent come from civil airlines pilots, while approximately 25 per cent are reported by military personnel. Reports have been received also from highly qualified scientists."

The Air Force adds that it "has received many reports of unusual images of radarscopes," but points out that "it is fairly well established that some of these images are ground objects reflected from a layer of warm air above the earth."

"No orders have been issued by the Air Defense Command to its fighter units to fire on unidentified aerial phenomena," states the flying-saucer report. "The Air Defense Command is charged with air defense of the United States, and its mission is to attack anything airborne which is known or appears to be hostile. This should not be interpreted to mean that any pilots will fire haphazardly on anything that flies."

In an attempt to photograph a flying saucer, the Air Force will set up diffraction-grating cameras at various air towers and also use "a continuously operating Schmidt telescope equipped with a camera.

This telescope has a wide aperture lens and is capable of covering a cone of 150 degrees or nearly the whole sky from horizon to horizon. This equipment will make it possible to get on a series of photographic plates a complete record of what happens in the sky at night."

IKE VS. FEPC

Negro leaders came away from a White House meeting the other day disappointed in the President's stand on fair employment, but convinced of one thing—there is no intolerance in Ike.

"Segregation and discrimination because of race or color has no place in a free country," Ike declared firmly. "I will do all in my power as President to get rid of it."

However, the President refused to go along with his visitors, represents of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, on dealing with unfair employment practices. They contended that the only way to combat race discrimination in employment is to have a law on the books, such as the Fair Employment Practices Act, protecting workers against intolerant employers.

"That's where we disagree, though I will go along with you that there are biased employers in this country," replied Eisenhower.
"While I don't approve of these people, neither do I approve of using any sort of compulsion on anyone regarding employment in a place of business. I also have doubts about the jurisdiction of a federal FEPC commission in the various states under our constitution."

The President demonstrated that he is making a real effort to keep abreast of racial intolerance in government projects. When N. A.
A. C. P. Director Walter White told him that slum clearance in some areas meant that Negroes were moved out but couldn't move back after new housing was provided, Ike seemed to know about it.

"I know there has been some discrimination in that matter, and I have talked it over with housing officials," he agreed earnestly.
"I think anything like that is intolerable. I can assure you that something will be done about it.
Under no circumstances should federal assistance be given to anything that promotes segregation."

However, the President seemed surprised to learn that segregation was still practiced in interstate travel despite a Supreme Court decision outlawing it. Informed that a colored Air Force lieutenant recently was jailed in Florida because he wouldn't give up his seat on an Alabama-bound bus, Ike became incensed.

"That's hard to believe," he reacted. "That was a case of interstate travel where the federal government has jurisdiction. I'll see to it that a complete investigation is made of that case."

INTERNATIONAL GRAPEVINE

Donald Heath, U. S. minister to Viet-Nam, has urged recommended rushing two squadrons of American fighter planes to Indo-China. He claims the French are in critical need of more planes to meet a big Communist drive, expected within the next few weeks. The Pentagon is willing to provide the planes, but not the pilots to fly them. The French will have to use their own pilots.

However, the United States offered to take over the job of training native troops in Indo-China, but the French rejected the offer. The State Department is quietly promoting an alliance between Thailand and the independent Indo-Chinese states of Cambodia and Laos in order to stem the Communist tide in southeast Asia.

Allied diplomats are drawing up a

Arrested

Joe Quick of Eldorado yesterday afternoon was picked up by state police on Route 34 north of Harrisburg and brought to the county jail. Quick had been sought on a charge of writing a fraudulent check and state police said they also planned to file a complaint charging that Quick was driving an auto while his driver's license was revoked.

Dulles Challenges Russia to Meet in Constructive Mood

WASHINGTON 19.—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the forthcoming Big Four foreign ministers conference will be futile and a waste of time if Russian leaders pursue past policies of trying to divide the allies.

At a news conference six days before the Berlin meeting begins, Dulles challenged the Soviet Union to approach the conference in a "constructive mood." If they wish to negotiate on German and Austrian problems, Dulles said, the United States would be "responsive" and the Berlin conference could have a "large historical significance."

Noting that the Soviets at past meetings have sought to divide and weaken Western nations and to frighten Western Europe by picturing the United States as a "militaristic imperialist," Dulles said: "If at the coming conference the Soviet pursues the same tactics then the conference will be a futility. We will all have wasted our time, and that applies to the Soviet leaders as well, for the Western nations are sufficiently mature not to be fooled by tactics of division employed by those who themselves have consolidated 800 million people into a single massive military bloc."

Dulles announced that he plans to leave for Berlin Thursday aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine. The secretary expressed hope that the conference could be wound up in three weeks.

Calendar of Meetings

The Clara Freeman circle of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Haley Dyson, 311 West Church street.

The Mother Thompson unit of the Wesleyan Service Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. J. D. Barter Jr., 1208 South Webster street, to-night at 7:30.

Methodist Suzannah Wesley Class Has Chili Supper

Members and families of the Suzannah Wesley Sunday school class of the First Methodist church met Saturday night for a chili and hot dog supper. Homemade pies, cakes, coffee and soft drinks were also served on the U-shaped table beautifully decorated with yellow mums.

Rev. Cummins read from the book of Job and gave a very interesting talk which was closed with prayer. Mrs. John Schwartz, teacher of the class, expressed her appreciation for the class and urged each one to attend Sunday school.

Following the speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morris showed slides taken while touring the West last summer.

Those present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bottomley and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Brown and daughter, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coker and children, Martha and Richard, Mrs. Ed Cummins, Mrs. Harry Easley, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Guard and children, Harold and Mary Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morris and daughter, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ozmert and children, Karen and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wallace and daughter, Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Horn and son, Dick, Mrs. Archie Ledbetter and son, Steven, Mrs. John Foster, Mr. and Mrs. John Schork, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Skaggs and son, Johnnie, and Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Cummins, who were especially invited guests.

Greek Teacher Guest At Presbyterian Alpha Circle

The January meeting of the Alpha circle of the Guild of the First Presbyterian church was held Tuesday night at the home of Miss Ruth Brockett, 100 East Walnut street, with Mrs. Byford Wiley assistant hostess.

Mrs. Lorie Lamkin presented the year book of prayer, and Mrs. Herman Boatright led a discussion on the topic "Why Should Our Church Be Concerned With Our Community?" The first in a series of lessons on the book of Acts was taught by Mrs. Byford Wiley.

Mrs. Wiley, chairman of the circle, introduced a guest, Miss Jane Koufidaki, teacher from Athens, Greece, who through the Fulbright Fellowship is in the United States studying American schools. She is spending three weeks in Harrisburg. Miss Koufidaki told of the problems of organizing the schools after the German occupation of Greece.

Following the program and business meeting the hostesses served dessert and coffee to the following members present: Mrs. Herman Boatright, Mrs. Lonnie Lamkin, Mrs. Harold Williams, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Willard Wiley, Miss Frances Batchelder, Miss Alvina Shestak and two guests, Miss Alta Davis and Miss Koufidaki.

D. A. R. Chapter Meets At Lehman Country Home

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its January meeting at the lovely country home of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Lehman. In spite of the icy roads and bad weather there was a very good attendance, and the warmth and beauty of the home dispelled all the unpleasant thoughts of winter.

The meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Clyde Wilmoth. The flag chairman, Mrs. N. A. Herrmann, led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, which was followed by all singing the National Anthem.

In the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. Jesse F. Stunson, the meditation was given by Mrs. D. E. Cavender. The regent then called for the reading of the minutes of the last meeting which was done by Mrs. N. A. Herrmann who substituted for the recording secretary, Mrs. H. E. Mitchell Jr. Mrs. C. R. Vantrease, the treasurer, also gave her report.

After a short business meeting the members were entertained by a very interesting talk on Pioneer Arts and Crafts given by Mrs. J. W. Towle, who is very well acquainted with the subject. Mrs. Towle also displayed rare pieces of glass and china.

After delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Lehman and the assistant hostess, Mrs. Bernard Moore, the meeting was adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Beggs and son, Donald, were in Tunnel Hill Sunday afternoon attending open house for her uncle, W. L. Nipper, who was 92 years old. Mr. Nipper is one of the oldest merchants in Johnson county.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Simpson, Route 1, Harrisburg, who have been in Fresno, Calif., since Dec. 5 visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Buckles, returned home Sunday. The Buckles also have a daughter, Kathy, and a new baby girl, Pamela LaVern, who was born Dec. 22.

Mr. Tadlock is 74 and Mrs. Tadlock is 68 years of age. They were married in Cave-in-Rock on Jan. 24, 1904, and she is the former Anna Pulliam. There are five children living: Mrs. Loran K. Vineyard, Harrisburg RFD 3; Mrs. Oscar Finley, Chicago; Mrs. Leslie Craig, Fairfield; Mrs. Ned Smith, Carbondale, and Farris Tadlock, New Orleans, La. Two children have died in recent years, Mrs. Roy Colbert and James Orvil Tadlock, and one child died in infancy.

Mrs. Oral Walls Hostess To Big Ridge Home Bureau

The Big Ridge Home Bureau unit met at the home of Mrs. Oral Walls Jan. 15 for the monthly meeting. Seven members answered roll call with "a special craft in which I am interested."

The minor topic, "Using Left-Over Egg Yolks," was given by Mrs. Bill Endsley, and the major topic, "Relation of Weight to Chronic Illness," was presented by Mrs. Charles Young.

Plans were made for each member who had made something in Home Bureau to send it for exhibit or door prize to the city hall Jan. 28 and 29.

The hostess served refreshments of cookies and drinks to Mrs. Sylvester Mears, Mrs. Clarence Muge, Mrs. Ernie Oliver, Mrs. J. W. Wintzler, Mrs. Charles Young and Mrs. Bill Endsley.

Mrs. Lillie J. Chitty, mother of Robert S. Keltner of the Barter-Keltner drug store, underwent surgery this morning at the Lightner hospital.

$1.00 Tube Pile Ointment

Noted Clinic Makes Most Unusual Offer to Any Afflicted Person—No Coupon—No Charge

There are no "strings"; we don't mean free "with" something! We mean just this: In order to introduce it to anyone who is afflicted with Piles (Hemorrhoids) or any similar rectal condition, the Thornton Minor Clinic will send free on request, a full-size $1.00 tube (not a mere sample) of Thornton Minor Pile Ointment—free and postage paid. Send only your full name, age and address. A post card will do. However, this offer is limited and may be withdrawn at any time, so we suggest you write at once. Address Thornton Minor Clinic, 911-B Linwood Blvd., Kansas City 9, Mo. This offer is exactly as stated above—no charge—no obligation—no bill now or later.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT BANKING?

... have heard the term "instalment credit" used to describe certain bank loans—just what does it mean?

INSTALMENT credit is a form of personal bank loan, which we extend to individuals at low cost for a variety of worth-while purposes—to finance appliances, automobiles, or home repairs, for example—and which borrowers repay in monthly instalments.

If you need to borrow, for any sound reason, see us. We will try to arrange a low-cost bank loan—on terms suited to your income.

too cold for a Tan?

.... then try a SUNLAMP!

No one's going outdoors for that summer sun tan these winter days! No need to, either, when you've got an Electric Sun Lamp in your home. A Sun Lamp gives off healthful ultraviolet rays, those sunshine rays that make you look and feel better all winter long. Just remember to use it as directed.

A companion bulb is the Infrared Heat Lamp. Good for soothing winter aches and pains, as well as many other home uses, such as hair drying, quick clothes drying, or even a quick "warm-up" on cold mornings.

Either lamp will fit into the household socket supplied with dependable, Low Cost Electricity. Your electric appliance store handles both kinds of lamps.

Ex-GI Competes With Coeds in Home Economics

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A busy ex-G. I. whose culinary art once won the praise of President Eisenhower is now competing for top grades with Southern Illinois university coeds.
Jimmy Viers, 24-year-old army veteran, has returned from Korea to give stiff competition in "Cook-ery and Foods" to the female contingent in Southern's home economics department.

Viers, a handsome six-footer, says his cuisine interest is not a hangover from army K. P. duty, but rather comes from managing the officers' club in Korea for General James A. Van Fleet whose favorite dessert, incidentally, was Viers' apple cake recipe.
Before he went into the army in 1951, Viers says his only contact with food was his mother's cooking and the groceries in the local store in McLeansboro (Ill.) where he worked.

He finally ended up in Korea satisfying such visitors to the club as Anna Rosenberg, Betty Hutton, Bob Hope and President and Madame Syngman Rhee. The high-light of his army career, though, came when President Eisenhower dined at the club during his Korea tour.

"The President made a special point of shaking hands with me and telling me the meal was one of the finest he'd ever eaten," Viers recalls proudly.

He admits that he doesn't care a thing about cooking and that he doesn't even have a gourmet's ap-petite, but, that for some unknown reason, he is fascinated with con-cocting dishes and supervising their preparation.

After graduation Viers says a job as manager of a large hotel dining room would suit him fine.

Bell Seeks to Halt Interference In Phone Service
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois Bell Telephone Co. seeks authority to discontinue service to any sub-scriber who interferes with the service of other customers, the Illi-nois Commerce Commission report-ed today.
The ICC said it had suspended the proposal for hearing at Chicago Jan. 28, since it could affect radio and television stations.
The company told the ICC that a number of radio and TV pro-grams are designed in such a way they result in a flood of calls to a particular number, tying up switching equipment in both the originating and terminating dial of-fices.
In manual operation offices, the operator can't handle all the calls when there is a sudden rush of them. As a result, the ICC said,

The second transcript contained a conversation on April 10 between Horace Rahn and Willie Shad in which Shad had promised $15,000 to Rahn's campaign fund. The other two transcripts were subsequent phone conversations between George Maudson and Willie Shad on the same subject. Shad liked to bargain, but in the end he had promised to come through with the full $50,000.

The typing on all four transcripts was sloppy, an indication that they had not passed through official channels in an office.

I pushed the briefcase to the other side of the table and brought out a cup and milk and sugar and the coffee pot and kept drinking the way a dipsomaniac drinks whiskey.

Let them come. Let them try to get it. It wasn't theirs. It wasn't evidence because it had been in the furnace since before the first murder.

I'd taken enough from them. I was angry. I was an indignant citizen who had a duty to perform. Watch me perform it without running from them.

There was a knock on the door. For a moment I sat very still before pushing myself up to my feet. "Who's there?" I asked.

"Ben Helm." I looked at the briefcase on the table, lying there as a background to the cup and saucer and coffee pot and milk bottle and sugar bowl. I turned my back to it and unlocked the door.

Hannah Rahn was with him. I stepped back, and they followed me into the room and looked at the briefcase.

"You're not surprised," I said. Helm smiled amiably. "Gallagher phoned the district attorney."

"And Randolph obeyed orders," said. "He communicated at once with his bosses. Maudson and Rahn didn't want Randolph or the cops to come for it because they don't trust anybody. I wonder why they trust you."

Helm took out matches. Hannah said: "Father and I hired Mr. Helm because he had a reputation for absolute honesty."

"And they sent you along to make sure that he remains honest," I said dryly.

She moved toward the table, but not all the way. "Just break them. That's all."

"Nothing else?" My voice wasn't steady. "What do I owe to anybody but myself? I won't call it integrity, because you don't know what that means. Call it anger. Now that you've seen I have the briefcase I'm taking it out of here."

"Uh-huh," Helm looked at me, clicking the pipe stem against his teeth. "And then what?"

"There'll be a blow-up," I said.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

COY ALLEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen, RFD 2, Carrier Mills, is completing his Air Force basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force base, Texas.

PFC ALDEN D. JOSEY NAMED SOLDIER OF MONTH AT ARMY CHEMICAL CENTER Pfc. Alden D. Josey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Josey, 302 East Raymond, has been selected Soldier of the Month for December at the Army Chemical Center, Md. Selected for this honor on the basis of such criteria as leadership, military bearing, conduct and attention to orders, Pfc. Josey received a cash award and a letter of commendation from the Post Deputy Commander, Col. F. W. Gerhard.

The Army Chemical Center, located on Chesapeake Bay about 25 miles north of Baltimore, is the headquarters of the Chemical Corps' research and development program.

A graduate of Harrisburg Township high school, Josey holds a B. S. degree from the University of Illinois and was engaged in post-graduate work at Cornell university at the time of his induction in October, 1952.

Working as a chemist at the Army Chemical Center, Josey resides with his wife, Dolores, at Box 123, Route 14, Baltimore.

Cpl. Leonard E. Butler, son of Mrs. Verna Butler, 1326 South Washington street, is now stationed with the U. S. Marines at Camp LeJeune, N. C., after serving with the 6th fleet in the Mediterranean area. He has been transferred to Headquarters Company. The following is his new address for anyone wishing to write: Cpl. Leonard E. Butler, 1306312, Hdq. Co. 2nd T. Bn., 2nd Marine Division, F. M. P., Camp LeJeune, N. C.

"The kind we need a lot of in our politics."

"Who'll be blown up?" Helm said. "Willie Shad? As a professional crook he's invulnerable to scandal. The only reason he was interested in the records was as a favor to Maudson or Rahn."

"Or to protect his investment in Rahn's future," I put in.

"Uh-huh. As for Maudson, he'll be shaken, but not off his throne. Nobody expects virtue from a political leader, and he's got the organization and the jobs."

"But he won't have himself a United States senator."

"He won't, but he'll go on the way he has been, because the citizens here put no more stake in decent government than elsewhere. A congressman, though, is somewhat different. People are a bit more sensitive about the men they send to Washington. In short, only Rahn will be hurt."

"That's fine," I said. "He's the one who counts—the representative, the servant of the people. Let him go down."

Defiantly I looked at Hannah. "Do you know the history of these records?" Helm asked quietly.

"I know what grief they've caused my son."

Helm pulled out a chair for himself. Tired as I was, I remained standing.

"On these records are words that belong to the men who spoke them," he said. "Morally the words are still theirs. Using them for any purpose is as bad as recording them—an invasion of a man's privacy. It's a police-state stunt. A dirty business, Justice Holmes called it."

"The law of this state doesn't agree with you," I pointed out.

"This state permits wire-tapping only if a district attorney or a policeman above the rank of sergeant obtains a court order."

"Was a court order obtained to tap Shad's wire?"

"Count Larkin out," I said sourly. "He would have needed a campaign contribution from Willie Shad also."

Helm pointed his pipe at me and said like a lecturer on a platform: "It's simple to tap wires these days. You place an induction coil near a phone wire, and you can be quite a distance from the house while doing it, as far away as half a mile. In some way Dina Larkin got hold of the records. We know that Thursday morning she tried to use them to secure for her husband the nomination for United States senator."

"I said: 'You're not serious.'"

"You know her better than anybody. I'm not telling you what she could do, but what she thought she could do."

"But look," I argued. "Some time before Thursday it had been decided to run Larkin for judge. That was a big step up."

"Evidently not big enough for her."

GM to Spend Billion For Expansion

NEW YORK — Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., announced today the firm will make capital expenditures of one-billion dollars in the next two years for expansion of its production capacity.

"No depression is in my vision," Curtice told a luncheon meeting of 500 business and industrial leaders prior to opening of GM's 1954 auto model showing. "It is my belief that the national economy will be strong and healthy throughout the year."

Curtice did not believe there would be much change in "the over-all level of employment" during the year although "there won't be as much overtime as last year."

Pupils in early schools sometimes obtained a "treat" or other concession by "locking the teacher out," that is, by arriving early and barring the door.

Senate Committee Tentatively Okays Hawaii and Alaska

The Senate Interior committee in a surprise move today tentatively approved a bill that would give statehood to both Alaska and Hawaii.

The Eisenhower administration is backing statehood for Hawaii but says Alaska is not yet ready to join the Union. Democrats on the Senate committee succeeded, however, in tacking Alaska to the statehood measure sponsored by the Republicans.

Central to Spend $115 Million To Keep Tracks in Tiptop Shape

- 1. NEW RAIL BY THE MILE, more than 76,000 tons of it, will go down along the famous Water Level Route in 1954. And that's just one item in New York Central's program for improving its all-weather steel highway. A program that will total over $115,000,000 this year!
- 2. MACHINES MAKE DOLLARS DO MORE. This one picks up, cleans and replaces rock ballast under a mile of track in less than an hour. It saves days of old-time handwork. And it assures you a clean, well drained, easy-riding roadbed when you ship or travel by New York Central.
- 3. MACHINES MAKE BETTER JOBS, TOO. Pulling out worn ties was once a slow, back-breaking job. Today, two men with this power puller can pluck out an eight-foot, 200-pound tie in seconds. This year, Central is investing $2,000,000 in such efficient machines that make work easier.
- 4. YET YOU PAY NO TAXES on all this, as you must for tax-supported airways, waterways, and highways used by big, inter-city trucks. Only your Railroad builds, maintains, and pays taxes on its roadway. Yes, top transportation that pays its own way is the CENTRAL IDEA!

Nothing U. S. Can Do About POWs Refusing to Return, Women Advised

WASHINGTON — Time was running out today for three women who have been fighting and praying for a miracle to bring their loved ones back from a prison camp in Korea.

In a matter of days, the American POWs who chose communism are expected to be returned for good to their Red captors. And the three women have been told there is nothing their country can do about it.

The three women are Mrs. Jewell Bell, Olympia, Wash., and Mrs. H. B. Wilson and her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Rogers, both of Urania, La.

Cpl. Otho G. Bell, Mrs. Bell's husband, and Cpl. Aaron P. Wilson, Mrs. Wilson's son, are among the 21 GIs who chose to remain with communism in spite of repeated opportunities to return home.

The women begged Assistant Defense Secretary John A. Hannah Monday to do something to bring the men back.

Bound by Truce Agreement

"Why won't you let us have passports to go see them?" pleaded Mrs. Rogers. "Why don't you do something about the boys who cried 'I want to go home, I want to go home?' Why didn't you explain to the boys all about coming home instead of waiting to the end?"

The women told Hannah they heard that the 21 Americans were gave the police today's break in the case.

Lear made the mistake of talking too long to Alfred from a sidewalk public telephone booth. The call was traced and a squad of about 25 heavily armed officers led by Homicide Inspector Al Nelder surrounded the booth while the kidnaper was still chattering away with final details for the big payoff.

He gave up sheepishly and led the raiding squad to a home at 167 Arbor St.—roughly three miles across the city.

First Demanded Half Million

Nelder, who had removed his shoes for silence, kicked the door in with his stocking feet. The raiding officers caught Jackson completely by surprise and held him under a dozen gun muzzles while they freed a disheveled but relieved Moskowitz from the bed.

The kidnap victim told police he had spent most of the time shackled, gagged, blinded and with ear plugs in his ears. The kidnapers tied two saucers inside his knees with adhesive tape so he could not move without making a sound.

The kidnapers at first demanded an even half-million dollars, but later scaled down their demand to $300,000 when the victim's distraught family pleaded they could not raise such a sum.

Moskowitz, 61-year-old father, Maurice, is a well-to-do, but not wealthy, retired real estate man. He is a member of the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and one-time foreman of the San Francisco county grand jury.

Secrecy Blanket

The case, one of the best-kept newspaper crime secrets in history, exploded with dramatic suddenness shortly before 4 a. m. today. There had been an absolute secrecy blanket—despite the fact all local news and radio media had been "in on the story" from the beginning.

Police said the 100 per cent cooperation of the press "probably saved the kidnaped man's life."

The ransom demand was the second largest in history, topped only by the recent Greenleaf case in Kansas City in which $600,000 was paid to kidnapers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady.

In the present case, the kidnapers were grabbed before a penny of ransom was paid. The family had arranged to gather the cash at the Bank of America at 10 a. m. today.

Details of the capture were given by Capt. of Inspectors James English and Dist. Atty. Thomas Lynch.

Thought of one guard officer's statement about opposing him if he runs for reelection, because of the merger.

"If I thought much about the political effect of things, I wouldn't be much of a governor of this state," he said.

"I wouldn't be much of a governor if I wouldn't act for the good of the public and if I don't, I shouldn't be here very long and wouldn't be."

Murderer Cheats Gallows by Dying Of Heart Attack

CORNWALL, Ont. — Convicted murderer Henri Seguin, 29, cheated the gallows by an hour Monday night, by dying apparently of fright.

Sheriff D. A. Villeneuve said Seguin, who was to have been hanged early today for the July, 1952 robbery-slaying of taxicab operator Leonard Hurd of Maxville, Ont., collapsed and died a half hour after a priest gave him the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

"I guess he died of fright," the Rev. Rudolph Villeneuve said.

Guard Commanders To Meet with Gov. Stratton on Jan. 26

SPRINGFIELD — Commanders of the 33rd and 44th Illinois National Guard divisions will meet with Gov. William G. Stratton Jan. 26 to discuss his controversial order merging the two divisions, it was disclosed today.

Stratton was asked at a news conference whether he would talk with Maj. Gens. George F. Ferry, Chicago, and Harry L. Bolen, Cairo, commanders of the 33rd and 44th, respectively.

He said he didn't believe either general had asked for an appointment "formally," but he would be glad to see them.

Afterward, William W. Downey, an aide to Stratton, told reporters the two generals had asked for appointments through a Republican State Rep. Charles McClintock, West Frankfort. The appointments were made for Jan. 26, Downey said.

Both Ferry and Bolen have been sharply critical of the merger, announced by Stratton as an economy move Dec. 17. Bolen resigned with an angry statement the following day.

Asked if he thought Ferry and Bolen could change his mind if they were to discuss the merger with him, Stratton said:

"It's not a question of changing my mind, but they might give me helpful advice on how to carry out the plan and make it effective."

Stratton was asked what he

La Grange and Moline Keep Top Ratings

SPRINGFIELD — La Grange was ranked the top team in Illinois prep basketball by an overwhelming vote again today with Moline and Mount Vernon in a close race for second.

Thirteen of the 15 members of the United Press Board of Coaches listed the defending state champion La Grange as the No. 1 team in the state. La Grange was 10 wins and one loss.

Two coaches rated La Grange second. One gave his top vote to Moline, the other to Mount Vernon.

Moline, the only team to stop La Grange this season, remained in second place this week but Mount Vernon was coming up strong. Moline polled 197 points to 188 for Mount Vernon.

Pinckneyville, beaten but once in 15 games, again was a solid fourth. Quincy, victor over two foes during the week, vaulted from the No. 7 berth to fifth.

Edwardsville, despite two impressive triumphs, slipped a rung from fifth to sixth. Centralia likewise dropped one notch, to No. 7.

Rockford East, one point winner over Rockford West Friday, moved up from ninth to eighth. Litchfield came in ninth and Ottawa was No. 10. Litchfield was tenth and Ottawa eighth last week.

Others among the top 15 this week were Rockford West, 11; Peoria Woodruff, 12; Cicero Morton, 13; Decatur St. Teresa, 14, and Hillsboro, 15.

Cicero Morton and Decatur St. Teresa were newcomers to the top 15, displacing Peoria Central and Wood River.

SPRINGFIELD — The United Press Board of Coaches rating of the top 15 Illinois prep basketball teams, with win-loss records and total points polled:

Seven Girls Nominated For Basketball Queen At Galatia High School

Plans are underway at Galatia high school for the election of a basketball queen.

Members of this year's team have nominated seven girls to vie for the honors, with the entire student body participating in the election.

Girls chosen by the team members were seniors Marlene Edwards, Mary Ellen Manker and Lovetta Grey; juniors Marlyn Flannigan and Phyllis Odle and sophomores Linda Roberts and Donna Eubanks.

The queen will be crowned and her court recognized in special ceremonies at the intermission of the Galatia-Rosiclare game, scheduled for Tuesday night, Jan. 26.

116 Traffic Fatalities in Area During 1953

SPRINGFIELD — Highway accidents claimed 2,179 lives in Illinois during 1953, the State Highway Division reported today.

The toll was 2 per cent above 1952, when there were 2,235 traffic deaths.

There were 22 highway fatalities in December, compared with 225 in the same month in 1952.

DU QUOIN, Ill. — The worst traffic death toll in Southern Illinois history may have been marked up in state police District 13

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

This is the week for the two conference tournaments involving Greater and Little Egyptian loop schools. The Greater Egyptian affair opens tonight at Cave-in-Rock with Saline county's entry, Galatia, reigning as favorite. The Little Egyptian tourney also gets underway this evening at Waltonville. Defending champion Thompsonville will be the team to beat there, if records can be believed.

Coach Bob Farris, whose Bearcats have lost only two games—to Benton and Carrier Mills—has been uneasy for the past two weeks. His uneasiness developed when cager Don Hill came down with the mumps. Since then, Farris hasn't known from one day to the next which of his boys would be victim No. 2. Furthermore, the Galatia pilot was a possible subject himself, never having experienced the disease.

"I'm an authority on mumps, now," Farris related to us Friday night, with tongue in cheek. And sure enough, he could quote us everything from symptoms of the disease to the day a person might walk away, free from the malady. ... a regular medical encyclopedia.

Well, the tension has eased somewhat. None of the other Bearcats have "swelled up," and Hill returned to school last week. Farris hopes to use the tall cager some in the tourney this week.

Ridgway's chances in the tournament may get a boost, too, as Coach Al Penman welcomes back Ronnie Rister to the squad. Rister was a regular on last year's team directed by Herb Sliger. The Risters moved to Kentucky during the summer, however, and Ronnie was one of Penman's several losses. Young Rister returned to the community in the Fall to live with a relative and attend school. The IHSA ruled him ineligible for competition as long as his folks lived elsewhere. A few weeks ago the Risters decided to move back to Ridgway, and consequently, Ronnie became eligible with the new semester.

J. E. Shadowen, coach and physical education instructor at Rosiclare, another conference school, recently announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent of schools in Hardin county, subject to the Republican primary in April.

Oliver Rollins' 39-point effort against Carbondale Attucks is one of the best single-game marks registered this season in southern Illinois. In fact, we haven't heard of a better individual performance this season in all Little Egypt. Rollins now has 254 points in 12 games for an average of 21.2 per tiff.

Galatia's Joe Upchurch has a slightly better average of 22.4 per game, having contributed 269 points in 12 games. Neither Rollins or Upchurch, despite their enviable records, can claim the best average in southern Illinois. Christopher's Dick Kerkemeyer has 344 points in 14 games for a 24.7 average, and Kimmundy's Gammon has poured in an unbelievable 317 points in 12 games for a sparkling 26.4 average.

Little Egypt's tallest cager, 6-11 Jim Stutts of Wayne City, turned in his best performance of his belated season last week, leading mates to an overtime victory over St. Francisville, 62-60. Stutts scored 35 points in the encounter, eight of them coming in the overtime period. Wayne City had lost to St. Francisville earlier in the season by 20 points.

And for those of you who hadn't heard, Anna's pride-and-joy of a few years back, Bob Pitts, recently signed with the St. Louis Cardinals as a pitcher. Pitts, a right hander, has been assigned to Daytona Beach in the Florida State league. Following graduation from Anna-Jonesboro high, where he made quite a record in athletics, Pitts attended Southern Illinois university for one semester.

Fifteen of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press Rating Board picked Kentucky tops, 10 voted for the Hoosiers, and eight favored Duquesne. Points were divided 318 for the Wildcats, 310 for Indiana and 287 for the Dukes.

Coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers, who won 11 of their first 12 games, thus gained ground on Kentucky (11-0) for the third straight week. Since the Wildcats wrestled first place from Indiana late in December, their lead has dwindled in succeeding weeks from 48 points to 42 to 14 and down to its present eight.

The coaches based their ratings on all games played through Saturday night, Jan. 16.

This week's two remaining first-place votes were divided between Oklahoma A and M (15-1), which retained fourth place, and Notre Dame (9-2), which jumped all the way from 19th to ninth place after handing Holy Cross its first setback of the season.

Minnesota Sixth Western Kentucky, another perfect record power with a 16-0 string, moved up one place to fifth, followed in order by Minnesota (9-2) and California (14-2), each of which advanced two notches. Kansas (7-3) dropped one place to eighth, with Notre Dame next and Louisiana State (11-2) 10th, climbing back among the top 10 after an absence of four weeks.

Oklahoma A and M had 238 points, Western Kentucky 149, Minnesota 97, California 92, Kansas 73, Notre Dame 50 and LSU 45.

Holy Cross and Duke dropped out of the top 10 teams this week after being upset. The Blue Devils fell to 11th place after being beaten by Wake Forest, while Holy Cross dropped to a tie for 12th place with Oklahoma City University after its loss to Notre Dame.

Wichita ranked 14th, North Carolina State 15th and Illinois and Oregon State were tied for 16th. Niagara came next followed by a tie for 19th between La Salle and Wyoming.

After them came Colorado A and M, Texas, Louisville, Bradley, Stanford, Rice, UCLA, Brigham Young, Navy, Oklahoma, George Washington, Idaho, Texas Tech and Seattle. In all, 34 teams received points in this week's ratings.

Don Schlundt Sets Scoring Record With 47 Points As Indiana Beats OSU. 94-72

CHICAGO — Indiana's 6-foot, 10-inch center, Don Schlundt, held a new Big Ten single game scoring record of 47 points today as the defending champion Hoosier cagers headed into a three week layoff from conference competition with a secure hold on first place.

Schlundt's new scoring mark, on 16 field goals in 25 tries and 15 free throws in 17 attempts, came at the expense of Ohio State Monday night as Indiana racked up its sixth straight conference win this season without defeat, 94-72.

The 47-point record surpassed the 10-year-old mark of 43 points set by Iowa's Dick Ives against Chicago Feb. 5, 1944.

It gave Schlundt the two single game scoring marks in the conference as Jan. 3, 1953, he caged 17 free throws against Michigan for the top record in that category. Has Total of 317 Points

Schlundt accounted for half of the Hoosier points in the one sided romp, and he earned the record by scoring seven points in the final three minutes and 12 seconds.

Coach Branch McCracken lifted his scoring pacemaker, the Big Ten scoring champion last year, with nearly five minutes left to play. But he said later he sent him back when the bench informed him that Schlundt had a chance to break Ives' mark.

The scoring burst gave Schlundt 80 points in the last two games and a total of 317 in 13 games this season for a 24.4 point per game average.

Monday night's battle was Indiana's last game until Feb. 1, when Louisville plays at Bloomington. The next Big Ten game for the Hoosiers will be against Michigan State at Bloomington Feb. 6.

John Miller was Ohio State's high point man against Indiana with 26 markers.

Iowa Beats Illinois
Iowa strengthened its claim on second place in the chase with a 79-70 decision over Illinois for the first Hawkeye win in Huff Gym since Feb. 24, 1928. Iowa had lost 17 straight games on the Illinois court.

Sophomore Carl Cain was the leading point maker for the Hawks with 24, but John Kerr dropped 29

Pancho Gonzales Is Leading Money Winner on Tour

TORONTO — Jack Kramer and his professional tennis troupe arrived here today for a one-night stand on a tour that has become a three-way money battle with reformed Pancho Gonzales leading the pack.

Gonzales, the hard-hitting Californian whose "big" game was never better, was making a comeback to pro ranks that so far have startled Australian Frank Sedgman, Ecuador's slick Pancho Segura and old pro Don Budge, who is making a comeback himself at 38.

With about one-fifth of the tour over, Gonzales, a one-time U. S. Davis Cup star, who later took a brief fling at the play-for-pay game, held a commanding 13-4 edge over his three opponents in singles matches.

Moreover, Gonzales has earned $11,770, nearly as much as the rubbery Segura made in his 101-stop tour last year.

Segura ranked second in the

1954 NEWS FROM LINCOLN

Take modern living wherever you go

You're looking at your modern home away from home. For now Lincoln lets you take with you the functional design of new-day architecture and well-defined colors used by foremost decorators.

Notice the smooth straight lines of the new Lincoln. Not a trace of useless chrome or bulk. It's built long and low from the new front grille to the brand-new taillights. Now, picture Lincoln colors!

Outside you can have vivid Royal Red, Columbia Blue, Canterbury Green. Or choose from more subtle shades such as Premier Yellow and Majestic Maroon. Then look inside.

Here you see fabrics that have never taken the road before:

friezes flecked with silver, nylons, gabardines, pebble weaves. And colorful leathers, too. Now you're ready for the next step.

Try the new Lincoln with the famous V-8 engine which many engineers believe stands alone for efficiency and economy. With its new 4-barrel carburetor you drive in complete confidence, knowing there's more than enough reserve power if you need it. Your ride is supremely comfortable because Lincoln gives you ball-joint front suspension; takes sway out of corners, makes handling wonderfully easy.

We invite you to try modern living on wheels... the wonderful new Lincoln and Lincoln Capri for 1954.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.
